ELCOM: ~~9.4/6~~ Item 1 on the Agenda for the Third Meeting
9.3/6 of USCIBELCOM, 19 June 1958.

Subject: National ELINT Objectives, Revision of (U)

a. The Committee used as a basis for the consideration of the ELINT Objectives the Inclosure to ELCOM 9.4/4, 3 June 1958, which set forth the original ELINT Objectives and the various submitted views concerning same. During the course of the discussion, the NSA member proposed an addition to the definition of ELINT, as follows:

"A communications emission is one in which electro-magnetic energy is emitted from a foreign energy source primarily to convey information. On the other hand a non-communications emission is one in which electro-magnetic energy emitted from a foreign energy source without such intent."

After discussion, it appeared that the proposed addition was susceptible of misinterpretation to the same extent as is the present definition of ELINT and further that for the purpose of the Objectives paper nothing materially would be gained in attempting to resolve or clarify definitions. It is pointed out that different interpretations concerning specific signals emitted by types of emitters could more appropriately be dealt with in a statement of specific collection requirements. As a result, the NSA member withdrew his proposal. The Committee then considered word-by-word the Objectives in light of the various suggestions for revision and agreed upon a single version.

DECISION:

USCIBELCOM tentatively agreed to a revised version of ELINT Objectives (circulated as ELCOM 9.4/5, 19 June) which would be reviewed by Members on a no-objection basis with a suspense of 3 July 1958.
